EUDEX, security essen, the NATO JAPCC Conference and the EUDEX Conference by CPM together form, for the first time, an integrated platform for military, civilian, and air- and space-based security. Four formats that previously represented separate worlds are now growing together into a shared security ecosystem.

In 2026, Essen becomes the place where industry, armed forces, authorities, government, research institutions and international delegations come together to drive new momentum for resilience, defence capability and a secure, free Europe.
